

April 22, 2012

To Whom It May Concern:

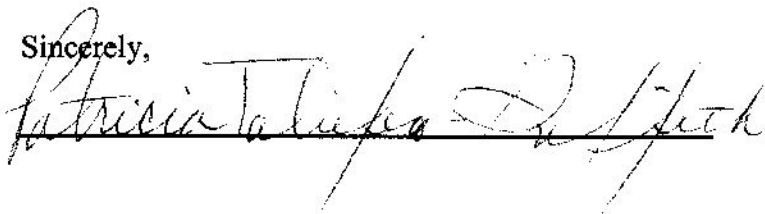

I am writing this recommendation on behalf of Danielle Pizzolato... My name is Patricia Taliefero-Griffith. I am an assistant professor at Trinity Christian College.

I had the opportunity to work with Danielle as a student in my General Methods Class. It was readily apparent to me that she was a very unique, knowledgeable and talented student; with many fine qualities. Danielle always displayed a positive attitude in my classroom; and it was so refreshing to see how she could find something positive in any situation.

Danielle is a very reliable, task-oriented individual with excellent human relations skills. She is a very personable, yet professional individual with excellent time-management skills. Danielle knows how to work with large and small groups; and because she is highly motivated, she knows how to motivate others.

Danielle Pizzolato's interpersonal skills enable her to interact with all individuals and situations that a school is faced with everyday. She is a very professional, organized and dynamic individual. She would benefit any organization looking to enhance their team. I would recommend Danielle Pizzolato without reservation. I see true leadership in her. She is truly an exemplary teacher-leader.

Sincerely,

Patricia Taliefero-Griffith
Associate Professor for Adult Studies
(cell-219-670-9568)